GAGEO

GAGEO is one of the biggest production companies in Europe in hotel amenities and guest supplies, as well as the largest supplier of the biggest hotel units and chains in Greece. The company is part of the PLIAS group of companies in the Athens stock exchange. Their new plant is rated one of Europe's most contemporary in automation and quality control. As a result of this, the company are now in a position to produce raw materials for soap and cosmetics, as well as produce PET plastic bottles and print their own products' labels and wrappings digitally. In this way, the company can guarantee absolute flexibility and punctuality on any order.

market leader with the unique TGR 3600. Ergonomically designed, comfortable to use, and powerful, the 3600 is finding a home in properties in which the last detail and the personal touch are of the highest priorities.

While bathroom electrical regulations change to provide increased security, choosing the TGR 3600 quashes the issue entirely. With an unobtrusive security device attached behind a drawer in a desk or in a chest in the living area, the TGR 3600 not only provides the benefit of freeing up space in the bathroom but also negates the issue of how to match a blow dryer to upscale bathroom décor.

Often guests have the impression the designer of the bathroom or the buyer for the bathroom amenities never experienced the space, let alone shared it, or had to try and use a blow dryer which was either completely non-functional or far less in quality and power than expected.
